Required Reading: Mas-Colell, Whinston and Green's Microeconomic Theory is the required text. Recommended texts are outlined in an accompanying sheet. Additional assigned readings are posted on Blackboard.

Topics to be Covered:

1. Production and cost
2. Preferences and demand
3. Choice under Uncertainty
4. Intertemporal Choice

Grading: Your grade for the course is determined on the basis of three exams, quizzes and assignments. Exams are in class (online) and no collaboration is allowed.

Prerequisites: The prerequisite for the course is ECN 605 or an equivalent knowledge of partial differentiation and constrained optimization in an economic context. Restricted to Economics PhD students OR consent of instructor.

Course Policies:

1. Note SU's religious observances policy at http://supolicies.syr.edu/emp_ben/religious_observance.htm. Students are provided an opportunity to make up any examination that may be missed due to a religious observance provided they notify their instructors before the end of the second week of classes.
2. If you believe that you need accommodations for a disability, please contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), located in Room 309 of 804 University Avenue, or call (315) 443-4498.
3. The Syracuse University Academic Integrity Policy holds students accountable for the integrity of the work they submit. Students should be familiar with the Policy and know that it is their responsibility to learn about instructor and general academic expectations with regard to proper citation of sources in written work. The policy also governs the integrity of work submitted in exams and assignments. Serious sanctions can result from academic dishonesty of any sort.
4. If you arrive late to an exam or quiz, I will allow you to take the exam in the time that remains as long as one has turned in his/her exam and left the room. Once a classmate has turned in his/her exam, you will earn a zero on the test if you arrive late or do not attend.
